

Guidance for end-users to complete template and covering letter

This end user undertaking (EUU) form and annex A must be provided when you order goods which are to be used by you (whether via a consignee or not). Both documents must be completed on your company's letter headed paper. Please note that if you are an individual these documents do not have to be on letter-headed paper.

Please read the following 'explanation of terminology' carefully for guidance on completing the EUU form.

1. The UK licensee is the person or body who is either exporting the goods abroad, or brokering the movement of the goods concerned, each of which may be direct to you or via a separate consignee.
2. If not known, the licensee's reference can be left blank for completion by the licensee.
3. The consignee is the person or body, who is the first recipient of the goods. This can be yourselves or it can be another person or body within your country or in another country. If you are both the consignee and the end user, then you must enter your own details in boxes (c) and (d).
4. As the end user you will be receiving the goods for end-use so boxes (e) and (f) must be completed. If you incorporate the goods into another product or higher level system, then you are still the end user for the purposes of the movement of the items.
5. The end user in this section refers to the entity at the time of shipment.
6. The goods in this section refer to those at the time of shipment. NB: If goods are being incorporated into another product or higher level system then this information should be included in Section 3.
7. The UK Authorities need to understand what the goods are and so a detailed description of the main item or items is required. If, for example, the main item or items are accompanied by a long list of spares, components or accessories, you should also indicate this in section 2.
8. If the goods are to be 'incorporated' by you (installed into another product or higher level system) then that product/higher level system, its use and ultimate end user (which may be within or outside your destination) should be described where known in Section 3.
9. Section 4 must be signed and dated by you as the end user since you are using the goods mentioned in Section 2. This includes where you incorporate the goods into another product or higher level system. This section should be signed and dated by a person within your organisation with authority to sign on behalf of the company/organisation. 'Digital' signatures are not acceptable.
10. For an up-to-date list of applicable destinations subject to arms embargoes, visit: Get a licence to export military or dual use goods, services or technology.
